Dear Prof. Palackal,

Thanks so much for your response. The journal is a new one and the first edition for 2020 has just been compiled.

The website is currently being designed too. However, I attached information about the journal for your perusal and advise.

Thank you.

Dear Prof. Adedeji,

Thank you for your mail. It will be great to associate with the activities of the Journal. Could you please send me the web site of the Journal so that I can get an idea of the scope and activities?

All the best

Dear Prof. Palackal,

I have the pleasure to have you as an editorial adviser of our Journal of Christian Musicology which is published for the purpose of developing Christian music. Your wealth of experience would be a blessing to the objectives and goals of the journal.

We look forward for your favourable response.

My best regards,

'Femi Adedeji

Dear Professor,

I got to know about your society through your website and I was very excited about it.

That was why I got in touch with you then. My area of academic interest and research works are christian musicological studies and I'm so passionate about working with scholars and bodies in the same areas. I am therefore requesting more information as regards areas where we can collaborate in developing christian musicology interculturally.

Thanks so much for your time and God bless you..
