Track 17 – Translation

On a certain day, when I was passing
Through Bethany, I saw Martha and Mary weeping.

They were weeping bitterly
A mournful lamentation,
Like sirens in the seas and rivers.
For they were moaning like a dove over its young ones
And like that man from whom the son
Of his old age was taken away.